

Welcome to the North Dallas Early Childhood PTA, and thank you attending our annual membership Round-Up! I hope that you and your children had a great time. 😊

Round-Up is reflective of most our events – we’re a casual, laidback group, who enjoy having fun with our children and with each other. As an accredited member of the Texas PTA, we join in their mission to make every child’s potential a reality. The NDECPTA does this by connecting local families through learning and play to foster growth at home and in our community.

Connect via our website and Facebook page to tap into our 300-members- strong “mommy network.” I’ve found this group to be a wonderful resource – on almost any topic! Be sure to login to the website to gain access to member-only content and save our email address so you don’t miss an email or newsletter.

Learn together at our general meetings, at 9:30 am on the first Thursday of the month. We have an exciting panel of speakers planned, who will share their expertise on parenting issues, wills and estate planning, fitness and more! Regardless of the topic, I always leave with a new idea and newfound passion for parenting, while also enjoying adult conversation and cup of coffee with friends.

Play with us at a morning coffee, afternoon BYOB or age-specific playgroup. There’s something for everyone! And when you want to play without the kids, there are much-needed moms’ nights out and couples parties, too!

Grow – motherhood has not only been the most rewarding and challenging job; it’s also been the most powerful motivation to be my best self. The NDECPTA has truly enriched my life (and my family’s) by supporting me through this journey. We also strive to enrich the greater Dallas community through partnerships with Genesis Women’s Shelter, Community Partners of Dallas, Avance, Wee Volunteer and Dallas Public Libraries.

Being a member of such a strong organization has also made Dallas feel more like home; I love seeing a friendly face at the grocery store or YMCA. I also enjoy supporting the wonderful sponsors who support us. Please remember to mention the NDECPTA when you patronize these local businesses!

As with anything you do in life, “You get out of it, what you put into it!” So get involved – you’ll be glad you did! I look forward to connecting, learning, playing, and growing with you and your family soon!

Emily Base, NDECPTA President